

Ride-hail (TNS) rates

Ride-hail companies use dynamic pricing to increase supply during peak periods by increasing rates and to attract more passengers during off-peak periods by lowering rates. Dynamic pricing is a flexible approach to setting the cost of a service. It's meant to reflect changing market conditions and to incentivize behaviour.

The Passenger Transportation Board (Board) sets minimum rates to be charged for ride-hail (TNS) trips in B.C. based on the operating region. This minimum rate is based on taxi flag rates for the region. For ride-hail trips, passengers agree to pay an up-front fare and that fare must not fall below the minimum rate.

Purpose

To set minimum rates for Transportation Network Services (TNS) in British Columbia and outline rates rules applicable to TNS.

Legislation

Section 7(1) of the Passenger Transportation Act (Act) states the Passenger Transportation Board (Board) has authority to:

(f) approve, or set, for the purpose of establishing just and uniform charges, rates to be charged by a licensee in respect of passenger directed vehicles operated under a licence that includes a passenger directed vehicle authorization or transportation network services authorization, or under a temporary operating permit that includes a passenger directed vehicle authorization, and approve any rule, practice or tariff of the licensee relating to those rates;

(g) make rules respecting

(i) rates that are or may be charged by a licensee,

(ii) any rules or practices of a licensee relating to those rates, and

(iii) any tariff of those rates.

Section 1 of the Act includes the following relevant definitions:

e. minimum and maximum charges;

f. any other fares, fees or charges.

“transportation network services” means either of the following:

a. services, other than services excluded by regulation, respecting the connection of drivers of passenger directed vehicles with passengers who hail and pay for the services through the use of an online platform;

b. prescribed services.

Applicability

This rule applies to licensees with a Transportation Network Services Authorization.

Definitions

For the purposes of this rule:

“Act” means the Passenger Transportation Act.

“Licence” means a licence issued under the Act that has a transportation network services authorization (TNSA).

“Licensee” means the holder of a valid licence and to which these terms and conditions apply pursuant to section 1 of these terms and conditions.

“TNS operating region” means the originating area set out in the terms and conditions of licence of the licensee’s passenger transportation licence.

Rule

1. Unless specified otherwise by the Board, licensees providing transportation network services must charge rates for each ride that do not fall below the applicable TNS minimum rate in Table 1 below.
2. The use of any coupons or discounts that reduces a fare charged for a ride to an amount below the TNS minimum rate is prohibited.
